

LJB INC. CORPORATE INFO

LJB Inc. understands that when professional services are well-rendered, they become invisible. Traffic flows smoothly, water tastes clean and fresh, people breathe easier, and work environments are comfortable and safe from hazards.

Our outstanding group of engineers, architects and environmental scientists embrace the fact that the benefits of their work are truly invisible...by design.

Reputation, trust, quality, service, excellence, technology, value. All these are expected from a professional services firm. All these are predictable. What is not predictable are the people and personalities that are the firm's character and soul -- the people you will turn to as trusted advisers on your important projects.

Our personnel work in eight client-focused business teams. Each team is made up of professionals who have dedicated their careers to understanding the nuances of your business. LJB people focus on your needs, based on the challenges of your industry.

And we feel that makes all the difference.
